Star Parts New Release

On February 25th, 2005, we implemented a new release of the Star Parts application. Per your requests we made the following enhancements:

- On the Parts / Illustration screen, you now have the ability to search on Sales Codes for a description without a VIN
- In Supersedence – you now have the ability to copy all parts to Exchange at one time in order to check your inventory, we also deactivated the 'add part to exchange button' to prevent multiple adds
- We added a new category in Feedback for Quantity issues
- In Star Ident, we added a clear button to give you the ability to type in a new VIN without having to erase the old VIN
- When transferring to Ident you now have the pop-up window to allow you to either save or overwrite the current bookmark
- We resized the Mopar note dialog to give you more of a description
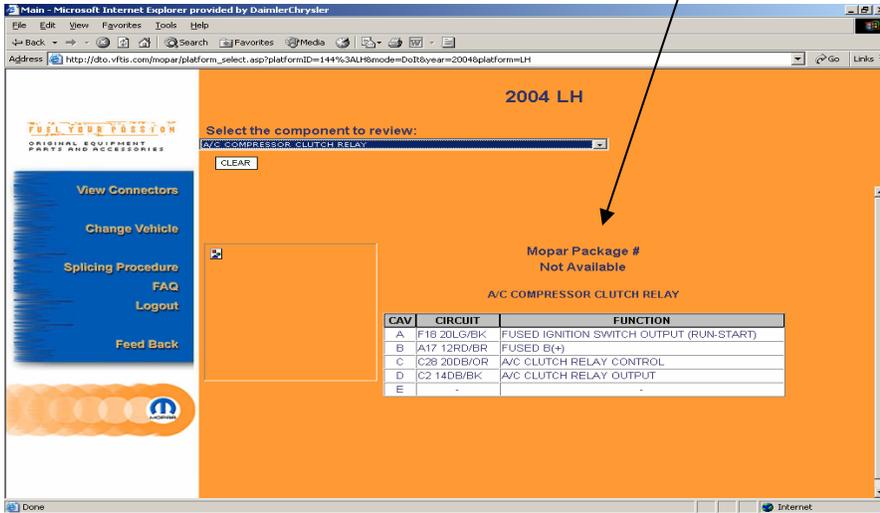

Electrical Connector Website

In today's competitive market we understand that it is imperative that you stay as productive as possible. The Electrical Connector website which can be obtained from the StarParts website allows you to be able to identify which connectors should be serviced along with the associated service numbers. Our website is a fast and easy method for looking up electrical connectors and wiring harnesses. As part of our plan to make your jobs easier we have modified the Connector website to include the following enhancements.

- For your convenience in sending us feedback we made the feedback link available from all screens

- To save you phone calls to specifying we have added the verbiage to the component review screen "Mopar Package # not available"

- We have added an FAQ section
